

Roland Vogt

Roland Vogt studied computer science at the Kaiserslautern University (Germany). Until 1999 he was a researcher at the German Research Center for Artificial Intelligence (DFKI) working on formal methods and tools. Since 2000 he is a senior consultant and conducts the IT Security Evaluation Facility at DFKI. One of his major interests is investigating theoretical and practical issues of E-Voting systems. He has been involved in the development of two certified e-voting protection profiles (BSI-PP-0031-2007 and BSI-PP-0037-2008) and he has coordinated the development of a digital election pen system on behalf of the City of Hamburg.